RUSSIAN COSSACKS ARE HURRIED TO PEKING SAYS DISPATCH

Rebellion in China is steadily gathering in strength as one province after another is subdued by rebels.

YANG SHI KAI IS POPULAR IDOL NOW

Accompanied by 2,000 troops, he makes triumphal entry into city from which he was once banished.

REVOLUTIONISTS TAKE ANOTHER PROVINCE

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—Hong Koon is in the hands of the revolutionists and the province of Chi Li has proclaimed its independence, according to advices today from Shanghai to a local Chinese newspaper. The capture of Peking again is reported.

A cablegram from Hong Kong says that a body of volunteer soldiers escorted a committee led by Wu Han Min, who is also the acting gubernatorial head, to Canton today. There was great rejoicing among the people. Imperial officials are said to have fled the public treasury.

AMERICANS LEAVE NAN KING TODAY

Nan King, Nov. 13.—The American and other consuls with foreigners under their protection, will move out of the city immediately. The commanders of the foreign warships today notified their consuls that they could not protect the lives and property of those who remained inside the city.

YUAN SHI KAI IS NOW TRIUMPHANT

Peking, Nov. 13.—Yuan Shi Kai, accompanied by 2,000 troops, today made a triumphal entry into the capital from which he was driven in disgrace three years ago. The news that "the strong man of China" had at last prevailed on to return and give the tottering throne the benefit of his counsel leaked out and a vast but orderly crowd lined the route from the railroad station to the temple, which had been provided as his residence. Yuan looked hale and hearty, his appearance belying the recent reports of his physical condition, which made an excuse for his delay in obeying the imperial command to come to Peking and assume the responsibility of premier in succession to Prince Ching, which appointment was promulgated in an imperial edict of November 11.

NINE ARE DEAD FROM CYCLONE

Albert Smith Was Last Victim to Be Found; He Was Buried Under Tons of Hay and His Body Mutilated.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Jamesville, Wis., Nov. 13.—With the death of Albert Smith today the death list from Saturday's cyclone here will reach nine. Smith was found buried in several tons of hay Saturday afternoon, cut about the legs and intestines. His father and two sisters had been missing since. Storms from the storm swept district estimated the loss at $750,000 to one million dollars. The sixteen families suffered intensely from cold Saturday night and yesterday, while the majority of them found shelter in neighboring farm houses, which escaped the storm's fury, their condition is pitiful in some cases once prosperous farmers today are penniless.

The intense cold which followed the cyclone increased the loss. The temperature dropped from 74 to 11 degrees above zero in twelve hours. The cyclone district extended from Broadhead, twenty miles west of here, to a point about four miles beyond Milton, which is twelve miles from here, making a total diameter of about a quarter of a mile wide. It swept entirely clear of all buildings. An emergency committee is being organized to raise funds for immediate relief.

OFFICIAL COUNT IS NECESSARY ON PART OF THE TICKET

Official Returns Received from Nearly All Precincts and Estimates on Majorities Are Close.

STROUP IS IN BY TEN VOTES

Ervin for Land Commissioner and Sargent for Auditor Are Probably Elected When All Votes Are Counted.

(Special Telegram to Evening Herald)
Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 13.—The returns have come in sufficiently to show that on most of the candidates of the state ticket, it will require an official canvass of the vote to determine who is elected.

The tabulated returns, as compiled at Republican headquarters here, show that beyond any doubt whatever, the Republicans have elected George Curry and Efigio Hana to congress, Attorney General Frank W. Clancy, A. H. Stroup, superintendent of public instruction, all members of the supreme court, at least two members of the corporation commission with a third member in doubt, and the state treasurer and state auditor, very close. Robert P. Ervin, land commissioner, is also running so close that it will take the official count to determine whether or not he is elected.

The governor has been lost by approximately 2,000 votes and the lieutenant governor by 1,200 votes.

The legislature is Republican. In the senate there are sixteen Republicans and eight Democrats, and in the house, twenty-nine Republicans, one Progressive and nineteen Democrats. The Republicans have elected the judge and district attorney in five districts, one very close, and the Democrats have elected them in three districts.

The election has been so close on many of the candidates that the prospects for a number of contests will likely be increased by the official canvass.

Following is the estimate, based on semi-official returns from all over the state with but a few precincts missing:

McDonald's majority	24,243

VESSELS SAFELY PASS THROUGH HURRICANE ON GREAT LAKES

Ships Thought to Have Been Lost When They Were Swept from Their Moorings Turn Up Safely.

OTHER SHIPS MAY BE LOST HOWEVER

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Chicago, Nov. 13.—The launch Evening Star and the barge Delta, which were driven out on Lake Michigan Saturday night before a gale and which were thought to have foundered with a crew of fifteen men, are both safe on the Michigan shore.

The Delta, after breaking her tow line, was blown into South Haven last night. Early today word was received by the Evanston life saving station from St. Joseph, Mo., that the Evening Star landed there safely.

The storm on Lake Superior was severe and it is feared several vessels have been lost.

The tornado which swept over parts of Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan Saturday night caused the death of nearly a score of persons. At Easton, Ill., two persons were killed and seven seriously injured. The town of Virginia, Ill., suffered a heavy financial loss by the tornado.

At Casson, Mich., two persons were killed and ten injured. The losses here will reach nearly half a million dollars.

COW-GIRL IS GORED BY BUFFALO IN A SHOW

She Made Desperate Effort to Save Lives of an Indian Woman and Babe, but Will Likely Die Herself.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 13.—The case she disregarded her own safety to save the lives of an Indian woman and her day-old baby, Miss Nellie Francis, a "cow girl" employed by a traveling "wild west" show giving exhibitions here, is near death today at a local hospital. Miss Francis, on foot, ran in front of a dozen or more frightened steers and buffaloes which stampeded following one of the performances and bore down on the tent in which the Indian woman and her baby lay. She turned the charge from the tent but was knocked down by a huge buffalo and before rescuers reached her was badly gored. Her chances for recovery are said to be slight.

THROAT SPECIALIST IS DEAD

ALBUQUERQUE WILL GREET M'DONALD TONIGHT

Non-Partisan Reception Will Be Accorded First Governor of New Mexico by People of Chief City.

TORCH-LIGHT PARADE PRECEDES MEETING

Town Has Been Full of Democratic Leaders All Day; Meeting of Central Committee at Commercial Club.

The rally at the Elks' theater tonight to greet W. C. McDonald, the first governor of the new state of New Mexico, bids fair to be the biggest political demonstration ever held in Albuquerque.

All day long the Democratic clubs have been gathering. Every train coming into the city has borne big crowds of Mr. McDonald's supporters and admirers, until the capacity of the hotels has been taxed to accommodate the crowds of visitors.

The affair tonight, however, will not be allowed to assume a wholly political or partisan complexion. Life-long Republicans who voted for Mr. Thurman in the campaign which has just ended, and who fought Mr. McDonald with all the power they possessed, realizing that the fight is now over and that the man who will address the people of Albuquerque tonight is no longer the candidate of a party or a faction, but the duly elected chief executive of a great state, will turn out in force to see that he receives the cordial and enthusiastic welcome that is due to the first governor of New Mexico by the people of her principal city.

Captain McDonald arrived in the city from his home in Carleton last night, and has spent the day in consultation with Democratic leaders, of whom there are many in the city. The strenuous campaigning through which the next governor has passed during the past month seems rather to have agreed with him than to have had any injurious effect upon his physical condition, for he was looking well and seemed to be in most excellent spirits. He would not talk for publication as to what the policy of his administration would be, nor could any expression be obtained from him as to the many conferences of which he has been the central figure today.

Practically the entire Democratic central committee has been in the city all day today, and an important meeting was held behind closed doors in the Commercial club this morning. Besides the members of the committee, practically every Democratic leader in the state was present. None of the members of the committee or the other leaders present would discuss for publication what took place at the meeting, but it is known that the exceedingly close race for the office on the ticket other than that of governor occupied most of the time and attention of the members of the conference.

Prior to the big meeting at the Elks' theater tonight there will be a torchlight procession and a parade of automobiles and carriages through the principal streets of the city, and it is expected that practically the entire town will turn out, regardless of political alignment, to welcome New Mexico's first governor. The meeting, of course, is in the direct charge of the political supporters of Captain McDonald, and was at first announced as a "celebration" of his election; but it has assumed larger proportions than any mere partisan gathering could have and has developed into a spontaneous welcome by a whole-hearted people to the man who has been chosen to pilot a great state through the first five years of its political existence.

MEAT PACKERS TO BE PROSECUTED

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Chicago, Nov. 13.—United States District Attorney Wilkes, and his assistants today practically completed plans for the prosecution of individual meat packers under the Sherman anti-trust act which will open here on Monday, November 20. A special panel of 150 men from which to select a jury has been summoned and subpoenas have been served on several hundred witnesses. Mr. Wilkes said he expected that the trial would continue at least three months.

BIRD-MAN RODGERS SUFFERING FROM CONCUSSION OF THE BRAIN

Within Sight of Goal Aviator Suffers Painful Injury; Is Unconscious and Can't Tell How Accident Happened.

PHYSICIANS SAY HE WILL RECOVER

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 13.—Suffering from a concussion of the brain and still unconscious, Aviator Calbraith P. Rodgers was today unable to tell anything regarding the accident which nearly cost him his life while he was trying to complete his ocean to ocean flight yesterday.

He cannot talk coherently and there has been nothing but surmise so far to account for the mishap, through which he lost control of his aeroplane while flying through the darkness, and plunged 125 feet down upon a plowed field near Compton, half way between Los Angeles and Long Beach.

Dr. Mattison said he expected Rodgers to recover.

Rodgers is being attended constantly by his wife and mother.

PASSENGERS ON CRIPPLED SHIP ARE FACING DEATH

Steam Schooner Washington Off the Mouth of the Columbia River Is Apparently Doomed to Sink.

FORTY FIVE SOULS ARE ON BOARD

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Astoria, Ore., Nov. 13.—Crippled and drifting before a southeast sea with a furious sea running, the steam schooner Washington, Portland to San Francisco, with forty-seven persons aboard apparently is doomed to destruction on the beach between Cape Disappointment and North Head just outside the Columbia river bar. The fate of her 22 passengers and crew of 25 is in doubt.

Already two of the crew have been washed overboard and drowned and the United States life saving crew are not hopeful that any of those on board will be saved. Every effort to reach the vessel with life lines or boats has failed. Unless she drifts close enough in to permit line being shot over her the ship's company is doomed. The sea is literally boiling and to launch the life boats would be suicidal. They will only be run into the water as a last resort.

The Washington got into the breakers while outward bound early last night. She is deep in the water and evidently leaking so badly that her fires are out. The anchors are dragging slowly and under the eyes of the helpless life savers, the ship is edging steadily nearer destruction on the beach.

Several tug boats which went to the scene from this port were unable to approach close enough to the doomed vessel to render any assistance. The weather is so thick that only occasional glimpses of the tug can be had from the beach.

JURYMAN RETAINED IN THE TRIAL OF M'NAMARA BY THE COURT

Judge Cut Short Efforts of District Attorney to Reply to Charge of Using Subterfuge in Trial.

BOTH SIDES WERE ABOUT EQUALLY OFF

Court Retains Man Who Said He Would Not Convict on Circumstantial Evidence Unless It Were Strong.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 13.—Charges of subterfuge made by Judge Walter Hordwell against the defense in the McNamara murder trial some weeks ago, were taken up by Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, at the opening of court today under what he held to be a parallel case, and hurled at the state. An effort by District Attorney John D. Fredericks to reply was cut short.

"You don't need to make any argument on that," the court said, and retained A. Gribbling, the taleman under discussion, after asking him a few questions.

Gribbling was challenged because, in a series of answers to galled questions by opposing counsel he had said he would not convict in a capital case on circumstantial evidence. He also said he would. The state challenged him on the strength of the negative statement.

"I will call the attention of your honor to the testimony of the taleman," said District Attorney Fredericks, "which I have gone over carefully."

"I have gone over it myself," observed the court, and Darrow rose. "Eugene W. N. Frampton and A. C. Winter, both of whom said they did not believe in circumstantial evidence, were retained by the state, and we had to use two peremptory challenges on them," he said. "It is in good case now, it is good case then. The state offers this challenge because it wants to get rid of Gribbling. The evidence is not stronger here than it was then."

To the court's interrogation Gribbling said he would convict if the circumstantial evidence was sufficiently strong.

"The challenge is disallowed," said the court, and added solemnly: "Now, Mr. Darrow, I don't think you were justified in saying that the state tried to use subterfuge to get rid of this man."

"The defense was charged by your honor with subterfuge in the case of Frampton and Winter," he said. "I think this is a like instance."

The court pointed out that one of the attorneys for the defense practically had admitted that those two men were challenged because they were not wanted and the incident was cleared.

Taleman N. P. Bailey was challenged for causes by Attorney Darrow. Bailey said he had read the Los Angeles Times for twenty years and was strongly in sympathy with its views on union labor and believed the Times was blown up by a union bomb. He was excused.

KENTUCKY TAXES EVEN STEAMERS

Notable Victory Is Won in a Decision Against Southern Pacific Railroad Company by Supreme Court.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Washington, Nov. 13.—Kentucky today won a victory over the Southern Pacific company when the United States supreme court decided that the commonwealth had the right to tax the company on the latter's steamers valued at $12,000,000 plying between New York and New Orleans, New York and Galveston and New Orleans and Havana.

The state claimed the right to impose a tax because Kentucky was the domicile of the corporation. The company opposed the tax because the steamers had never been within the state.

UNITED STATES IS FACING A BIG UPHEAVAL IN POLITICS

President Samuel Gompers Declares Organized Labor Gives Its Fullest Endorsement to the Recall.

REAL DEMOCRACY CRY OF WORKMEN

Government of This Nation, Leader Declares, Has Never Been Run by the Masses of the Common People.

(By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire)
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 13.—President Gompers formally opening the 31st Annual convention of the American Federation of labor here today, declared he and the other two labor leaders sentenced to jail for contempt of court were ready and willing to serve their sentences if they must.

The subject of the Gompers-Morrison-Mitchell contempt case was brought up in the course of a welcoming address to the delegates.

"If any man of labor is guilty of never seeing a jail," said Mr. Gompers in responding to the welcome, "he should be indicted and tried by a jury of his countrymen. But I deny the right of a judge to issue an injunction depriving me of my constitutional rights. It is not so much the assumption of power as the assumption of jurisdiction that we object to."

Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of labor, in his report submitted today to the delegates of the thirty-first annual convention, predicted great changes in American methods of government particularly with regard to political parties. He gave to the referendum, initiative and the recall the unqualified endorsement of organized labor and declared that a real, representative democracy had never been known in the United States because of the general absence of those provisions.

"This semi-dedication of judges," he said in defense of his endorsement, "this unscrupulous cant about 'mob rule' some of which was in President Taft's message vetoing the Arizona statehood bill, is more driven."

President Gompers' report, which covers 60 closely printed pages and would make more than 30 columns in a newspaper, says it leaves many subjects untouched or inadequately presented.

In the main, the report declares for, and says organized labor demands:

The referendum, the initiative and the recall.

Passage of the so-called anti-injunction bills at the next session of congress.

Restriction of immigration.

Further restriction of convict labor. Legislation to relieve civil service employees from the executive orders prohibiting them to petition congress.

Uniform laws for protection of life and health in factory buildings.

A department of labor in the federal government.

Employers' liability and workmen's compensation acts throughout the states.

Severe arraignment is made of so-called scientific management or efficiency systems.

With its membership now more than 1,750,000, the greatest in its history, and its financial condition excellent, the organization often called the greatest altruistic institution of the times, enters the thirty-first year of its work.

Despite all opposition of the most relentless kind the American labor movement grows and thrives. Its beneficent influence for the common uplift of labor and of all our people extends to all fields of useful activity and is becoming more generally recognized. The power which labor holds within its grasp is understood by its opponents perhaps better than many of its leaders. The fact is that labor's opponents, like the Tories of the past, many of whom are still with us, are afraid to trust the people.

"With power in the hands of labor and of the people generally comes a quickening sense of responsibility. And though errors are liable to occur they bring experience, and an avoidance of recurrence. The errors or shortcomings of the few or of an autocrat teach them no lessons and are rectified only by the people's revolt. How perfectly safe freedom is, is a truth not yet fully understood," says the report.

Labors contentions of many years have become merged, or have rather co-ordinated with those of the progressive of all parties. The people as a whole irrespective of class, condition, calling or partisan alignment have declared for freedom in fact, and not merely in name. They are taking affairs political into their own hands. They will no longer tolerate the sale of legislation to the highest bidder or the granting of franchises to the richest bidder alive. Under the coming regime, assuredly there are to be no more court decrees entered as prepared in advance and ordered by the attorney for the stronger party—stronger politically or financially.

In the face of the political boss and his machine, we shall have leadership of intelligence, pleading for public justice, with adherents proportioned to the merits of their cause.
